

CHAMBER MEMBER SPOTLIGHT

This chamber member spotlight features Rayma Rowland with Victorian Lantern Bed & Breakfast.

Rayma and her husband Dave own and operate the local bed and breakfast. They have also worked on the building's restoration.

Tell us a bit about Victorian Lantern.

"We are a Bed and Breakfast providing lodging and a full breakfast each morning."

Who is your target market?

"Travelers and local families."

What got you interested in running your own B&B?

"We've always enjoyed staying at bed and breakfasts. The opportunity arose and we were getting close to retirement, so we decided to go into business."

Since starting the bed and breakfast, what has been your biggest win?

"Our biggest win has — by far — been the wonderful people. Providing them with a 'home away from home' atmosphere."

What has been your biggest challenge?

"Our biggest challenge since opening has been COVID."

What makes you stand out from other B&Bs?

"We are literally a home that invites guests to come and enjoy. We're fortunate that our home is a beautiful Victorian, which adds to the allure."

What are your personal goals for Victorian Lantern?

"To prosper and be prosperous for Kingman. We also want to incorporate some special events such as murder mystery, lawn concerts, etc."

Favorite quote:

"Let go and let God."

Victorian Lantern Bed and Breakfast is located at 134 West E Ave in Kingman.
